

The Journey: Design Your Business Journey™

IntegraSphere has created a break-through for business owner-developers whose ambitions are carrying them beyond their small business operating style. Their journey toward new opportunities requires leadership, vision, and hard work. Now they need systems with more power and adaptability, and systems that simplify, not complicate. With these kinds of resources, our clients can make more progress, execute with more certainty, and they can design their journey with new confidence.

The Vehicle: Power Your Business Operations

IntegraSphere's remarkable vehicle called the Compact Enterprise System™ is for accomplished owner-developers who are ready to power-up their business operations and management approach, and make progress faster. Owners can get 24X7 control of operations, they can adapt more readily for changes or new opportunities and tap into more automated power for their evolving business.

The system delivers results that today's creative owners demand: stable operations and controls, flexibility for changes, and freedom to innovate and drive more business success. It is today's most compelling, simplified and straightforward route to systematic management of business, people, and processes.

How much more effective can you be, when you have implemented the system that you really do need, and can start getting more focused on driving new business. But, can this really be done without creating more distractions and adding new risks? Yes, it can. Compact Enterprise™ includes these four parts:

- Compact Enterprise OCS™ Operations and Control System delivered online and ready to use, includes: Executive and Supervisory Management, Team Coordination, Customer Management, Customer Support, Timesheet and Attendance Management, Work Efforts or Projects, Invoices Billing Payments and Purchasing, Production and Manufacturing, Accounting, Comprehensive Reporting, and more.
- Compact Enterprise PTD™ Provisioning Training and Deployment is the service we provide our clients to help them configure, and deploy the Operations and Control System to their teams.
- Compact Enterprise MSA™ Management Systems Advisor is the advisory service our clients use when making changes, designing new adaptations to navigate their journey's challenges.
- Compact Enterprise MST™ Monitoring Support and Test silences the distractions of information technology, and preempts problems that are annoying and costly to fix.

System by IntegraSphere

All of the Compact Enterprise™ operational services are online, without local user software applications, and require only the specified web browser and internet access for users. You and your staff members can be working from any location with secure internet access, and it all works without hassles. Thus, you can really focus on managing your business priorities, knowing that your operations are work quietly in the background, powering your business and you can check on it anytime for real-time reports.

Because there is nothing new to own, install or maintain, and no mandatory capital investment, you can fit this new management system into your plans very easily. Then the ease-of-adoption and ease-of-use kick in, and you experience the benefits right away.

- Reclaim hours of time per week, stop chaos, reduce errors
- Exert control and enforce compliance with your rules (more automatically)
- Improve client service, confidence, and satisfaction
- Manage better, all the time, and profit more

IntegraSphere Compact Enterprise™ is today's trendsetter, a vehicle that simplifies and powers your business operations and management systems while it improves both your top line, and your bottom line. It harnesses the advanced technologies you use so that you don't have to be concerned about details. This provides you with amazing new capabilities to reclaim time, erase distance, and evolve your business.

Finally, Compact Enterprise™ does not require that you employ an IT technician to run it for you, because it comes as a "turn-key" system ready to start using – it's more like driving your car than like fussing with a computer. You only need a team member to act as your User/Administrator who is knowledgeable about your business management processes and is a capable PC user.
